hereby adopt the following program of action:

I. Vision

By the year 2026, the member states will have consolidated substantive progress in building an inclusive society, one based on solidarity, accessible to all, and recognizing the full and egalitarian enjoyment and exercise of human rights and basic liberties of persons with disabilities, eliminating social prejudices, stereotypes, and stigmas and the many discriminations against groups in situations of vulnerability and/or who have been historically discriminated against, which prevents their development and full and effective participation and inclusion in society.

Persons with disabilities must be recognized and appreciated for their effective and potential contributions to the general welfare, diversity, and respect for their plurality, in both urban and rural areas, and inside groups in situations of vulnerability and/or who have been historically discriminated against.

II. Mission

The member states pledge to prevent persons with disabilities from being victims of multiple discrimination, focusing special attention on discrimination because of their belonging to other groups in situations of vulnerability and/or who have been historically discriminated against.

The member states pledge to carry out national, regional, and local programs, recognizing, promoting, and protecting their human rights to mitigate the harmful impact of poverty and inequality on persons with disabilities compared to the rest of the population, in view of their situation of vulnerability, discrimination, and exclusion, recognizing, promoting, and protecting their human rights.

The States Parties pledge to harmonize their domestic legislation with the principles and standards of international human rights law in this area, enshrined in Article 12 of the CRPD as interpreted by General Comment No. 1 of the UN Committee on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities.

The member states pledge to adopt gradually and irreversibly administrative, legislative, and judicial measures, as well as the public policies needed, to the utmost of their available resources and,
when necessary, in the framework of international cooperation, in order to progressively achieve the full exercise of the rights of persons with disabilities, without detriment to the rights that are immediately applicable by virtue of international law for the effective application of the present Program of Action, stemming from the extension of the Decade of the Americas for Persons with Disabilities (to the year 2026), in the domestic legal system, so that persons with disabilities can be on an equal footing with other persons and improve their living conditions.

They also pledge to remove administrative, judicial, or any other kind of practices that are not compatible with the vision and goals of the PAD, immediately adopting measures conducive to this end, in order to ensure that persons with disabilities are on an equal footing with other persons.

III. GOALS

1. Awareness-raising of society

To ensure promotion of knowledge about the situation of persons with disabilities, recognition of all of their human rights, protection of their dignity, their due valuation, as well as the elimination of all forms of discrimination and all constraints in terms of culture and attitudes, including social prejudices, stereotypes, and stigmas and many discriminations because of their belonging to other groups in situations of vulnerability and/or who have been historically discriminated against that prevent their development and their full and effective participation and inclusion in society.

2. Health

To broaden, enhance, and ensure the access of persons with disabilities to health services, including sexual and reproductive health services, on an equal footing with other persons and ensuring that existing services mainstream the disability perspective and, when relevant, adding that of other groups in situations of vulnerability and/or who have been historically discriminated against, especially to the services required as a consequence of their situation of disability, including prompt detection and intervention, when appropriate, and services aimed at preventing and reducing to the utmost the appearance of new deficiencies or the aggravation of those already existing. It shall be guaranteed that all health services shall be provided on the basis of the free and informed consent of the person with the disability. Also, to promote the related investigation with treatment, rehabilitation, and prevention in order to reduce to the utmost the appearance of new disabilities.

3. Rehabilitation and empowerment

To promote multidimensional systems of rehabilitation and empowerment for persons with disabilities that envisage addressing their disabilities throughout their life cycle, focusing on them at an early age and during childhood, encouraging availability, knowledge, and the use of assistive technologies and devices aimed at persons with disabilities and the training of professionals.

4. Education

To ensure and guarantee that persons with disabilities have access, on an equal footing with other persons and without any discrimination, to quality education, with cultural and inclusive
